Dear Ray,

Enclosed is an evaluation of your collection. As you can see I decided come up to the $40,000 Figure Mentioned by Hansen. Don't consider this to be my offer for your collection since I would like you to go over my list and let me know where this off.

In going over the collection I have broken it down into 7 categories I have keyed these as follows:

(1) VARIETIES MISSING IN MY COLLECTION
(2) DIE STATES MISSING IN MY COLLECTION
(3) COINS 10 OR MORE POINTS IN CONDITION ABOVE MY COLLECTION
(4) " 1 TO 9 " " " " " "
(5) EXCEPTIONAL COINS WHICH WOULD HAVE TO BE RESOLD
(6) OTHER HALF CENTS TO BE SOLD OR KEPT.
(7) COINS TO SELL

As you can see I would be happy to combine the best of your collection with mine. This soon figured out that if I did this I would have a collection of either 95 or 96 varieties with an average condition of 40+

From a financial end it is obvious to me that I would have to borrow funds but I feel I could easily repay. I do not think selling the coins would pose much of a problem as I think I can compile a mailing list of Half Cent Collectors that are often dealers, that Hilt, Hanson or Raynor, could provide. I would have to move rather rapidly as January 1 isn't too far away.

Please advise as to what you think

Dear Roger -

Was going to call you but thought it best to mail off the enclosed before doing so.

As for the 94 6-6, its a dog but date is clear & reverse grades about VG-8; "Liberty" on obverse is entirely missing. Will adjust as follows:

Mmde Total	$32,978
Less (for 94-6-6 priced at $75.)	100
	32,878.00

Coin should be worth at least $75.00 & you ought to make a few bucks on it. - I didn't have one & just couldn't pass it up. (Patrick in N.Y. sent me one once - price $350.00 & not much better than the one I now have). - Or you can exclude it entirely if you want to.

The above also is not necessarily my final offer but it is fairly close to actual cost. Admittedly, I paid too much for some coins but those acquired on auction in 68 & 69 ought to be worth as much or a little more now. - I believe Hanson prices high & maybe he is right - both you & I tend to be much more conservative price-wise & it may be with a rising market there

(over)

Coins are worth several thousand more than our estimates. — Anyway, after you look over the enclosed, call or write, & I'll call you.

Best.
Ray —
